

Food banks:

Main food banks are run by the Trussell Trust you can use the following web page to search for their foodbanks in your area:

<https://www.trusselltrust.org/get-help/find-a-foodbank/>

Local food banks work with referral agencies to issue food vouchers to those in need of emergency food in times of crisis.

Each food bank works with different frontline professionals, like doctors, health visitors, social workers, and these professionals will be able to refer you to a food bank and give you a food bank voucher if they think you need emergency food.

North Norfolk

South Norfolk

Norwich

Foodbanks run by the Norwich Food Bank run a similar system of requiring referrals via a local agency for more information visit their website.

Some foodbanks may offer support without the need for a referral from another agency, please check websites for details.

Norfolk Community Foundation also support and promote a wide range of food sharing initiatives around the county vi their Nourishing Norfolk Network. The Nourishing Norfolk Network brings together groups of all sizes who work at grassroots level to ensure communities have access to affordable, healthy food. Established in 2021, the network provides mutual support, advice and information to help combat food insecurity and make sure no-one in Norfolk goes hungry.
